Spelling to Count

Jr. Kindergarten & Sr. Kindergarten

P1 Print in Pencil

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall.
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall.
All the King's horses
And all the King's men
Could not put Humpty together again.

Grade 1

P2 Print in pencil

Ride a Cock Horse

Ride a cock horse
To Banbury Cross
To see a fine lady
Upon a white horse!
Rings on her fingers
And bells on her toes
She shall have music
Wherever she goes.

Grade 2

P3 Print in pencil -

The Hobby Horse

I had a little hobby horse
And it was very gay.
It's head was made of straw,
And it's tail was made of hay
I sold it to an old woman
For a copper groat.
And I'll not sing my song again
Without a new coat.

Grade 3

P4 Print in Pencil

Our Rocking Horse

There's a rocking horse in our classroom,
He takes us everywhere,
I set him off to go so fast,
Galloping to the fair.
Our rocking horse is dapple gray
With a saddle made of leather,
Then when school is over
And we all have gone home
He stands in the empty classroom
Still – and all alone.
But through the quiet night time
I know he dreams with joy
Of all the happy times he's had
With every girl and boy.

Grade 4

P5 Write in pencil-

Horace

Horace the horse on the merry-go-round
Went up and down, round and round
He's been sad since the day he found
He's the very last horse on the merry-go-round

The music began and away they go
High and low, to and fro
Poor old Horace would always say
"I'm the very last horse again today."

How he tried and tried and tried
But he just never could win
Horace cried and cried and cried
'cause all the other horses were ahead of him

Then came the day on the merry-go-round
When Horace turned, looked around
Then said, "Gosh oh gee—
I'm the very first horse on the merry-go-round,
The others are following me!"

If I Had a Horse

If I had a horse,
I'd like him to be
As white as the whitecaps
That ride on the sea.

Or I'd like him black
And little and trim
Or if he were chestnut
I'd be proud of him.

I'd like him large
A smooth dappled gray
With heavy hoofs
Or I'd like him bay.

You see it's like this:
I just wouldn't mind
What was his size
or his colour or kind.

Wild Horses

We saw them drink from a quiet stream,
As clear as their own dark eyes;
Their necks were arched in the sunlight's gleam
And they were as beautiful as a dream
When they drank at dawn from a quiet stream,
As clear as their own dark eyes

We saw them run on the open plains,
Untouched by the whip and spur;
The wind was soft in their tossing manes,
The love of freedom was in their veins,
As they ran for joy on the open plains,
Untouched by the whip and the spur..

We saw them stand on hilltop high
With nostrils wide to the breeze.
Their forms were graceful against the sky
And wild and beautiful was their cry
As they stood at eve on a hilltop high

Horseshoes

The horseshoe is considered very lucky and used to be hung in many homes to protect and attract good fortune for the family residing inside. As with many superstitions, there are contradictions to be found with the beliefs associated with the horseshoe. For instance, many believe that to hang it with the ends pointing upwards is good luck as it acts as a storage container of sorts for any good luck that happens to be floating by, whereas to hang it with the ends pointing down, is bad luck as all the good luck will fall out. Others believe that no matter which way you hang the horseshoe, good luck will come. According to this superstition, the ends-pointing-down display simply means that the good luck is able to flow out and surround the home. If the horseshoe is hung over a doorway, ends up will catch good luck and ends down will let the good luck spill over the door and stop evil from entering. Perhaps a combination of the two was used so that after a few days, when the horseshoe was filled with good luck, it would then need to be emptied so that residents could benefit from that luck and the process would be repeated until the end of time.
